

SHEETMETAL Worker

Our client manufactures and installs specialised metal roofing and wall cladding in the greater Wellington area. The work is varied and often uses premium materials such as copper and zinc.

On their behalf, we are looking for an experienced sheet metal worker to join their roofing team based in their factory. This is permanent role for the successful candidate.

Candidates must:-

- Be locally based;
- Understand basic shop drawings and able to use and provide their own basic hand tools (They will provide power tools and specialised tools as required);
- Have previous experience in SHEETMETAL work, be extremely safety aware for both themselves and others;
- Be legally able to work in New Zealand,

You will also have a positive attitude to work and new challenges, with a can do attitude, and able to demonstrate pride in workmanship.

Our client provides a safe work place and the successful candidate will need to undergo a pre-Employment drug test.

If you meet the above requirements and are keen to join our friendly team, we look forward to hearing from you.
